Madras Act VII of 1935.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

The object of this Bill is to regulate and control the business of pawnbrokers in this Presidency. Many pawnbrokers, especially in urban areas, are suspected of receiving stolen property, and there is a marked reluctance on their part to reveal the sources from which property is recovered by them. The constant trade of stolen pawnbrokers are now written in a series of contracts in this Presidency, and this adds considerably to the difficulty of preventing them from making an illegitimate use of their position. The Government consider that the time has now arrived for legislation requiring pawnbrokers to take out licences and subjecting their operations to a system of control on the lines of the English Pawnbrokers Act, 1872 (35 and 36 Vict. Ch. 52).

2. The provisions of the Bill will extend only to such portions of the Presidency as may be notified by the Government from time to time. The Government will also have power to withdraw the provisions from any area to which they have been extended, if necessary for such withdrawal to be subsequently.

3. No person can carry on business as a pawnbroker after a period of three months from the date on which the Bill is brought into force in any area, unless he obtains a licence from the Commissioner of Police in the City of Madras and from the District Superintendent of Police in the mofussil. The Commissioner or the District Superintendent may delegate the power of issuing licences to any qualified officer subordinate to him. Licences will not be issued if the applicants fail to produce satisfactory evidence of good character or if the shops or other places in which they intend to carry on business are frequented by thieves or persons of bad character. A separate licence is necessary in respect of each shop or place of business of a pawnbroker. The licence will be an annual one but may be renewed from year to year. It will be in such form and subject to such conditions as may be prescribed by the Government. A fee not exceeding Rs. 25 per annum is to be charged for the licence.

4. Advertisements by the Government or any local authority, by a company or a co-operative society, by any person bona fide carrying on business not having for its primary object the lending of money, by a landlord to his tenant, by a lender to his borrower, and by one partner in cultivation or co-share to another for the purpose of carrying on agriculture have been excluded from the scope of the Bill on the analogy of section 2 (7) of the Madras Debtors' Transactions Act, 1934 (Madras Act VII of 1934).

5. The interest which may be charged by pawnbrokers is limited to 45 per cent per annum simple interest. Pawnbrokers will also be entitled to recover charges on such items and at such rates as may be prescribed by the Government. Power has been given to make rules for preserving the language in which books, accounts and documents shall be kept.

6. In other respects, the Bill follows mainly the provisions of the English Pawnbrokers Act.

7. Suitable amendments have been made to the Madras Debtors' Transactions Act, 1934, and the Madras City Police Act, 1905. These amendments will be in force in the areas to which the provisions of the Bill have been extended by notification, and so long as such notification is in force.

8. The notes on clauses explain in detail the object of the more important clauses of the Bill.

NOTES ON CLAUSES.

Clause 2 (1).—This corresponds to the definition of "Copy of Notice" contained in section 3 of the Malacca City Police Act, 1903 (Malacca Act III of 1903).

Clause 2 (2).—This is based on the definition of "company" found in section 2 (1) of the Malacca Debtors' Protection Act, 1934 (Malacca Act VII of 1934). The last paragraph of that definition which refers to "a life assurance company to which the Indian Life Assurance Companies Act, 1902, applies" has however been omitted in view of the Insurance Act, 1938 (India Act IV of 1938) which has been recently enacted.

Clause 2 (3).—This is based on the definition of "Island" in section 2 (8) of the Malacca Debtors' Protection Act.

Clause 2 (7).—The definition of "pawnbroker" follows section 2 (9) of the Malacca Debtors' Protection Act. The Explanation is modelled on section 4 of the English Pawnbrokers Act (32 and 36 Vict. Ch. 93).

Clause 2 (8).—This follows the definition of "pawn" contained in section 2 (10) of the Malacca Debtors' Protection Act.

Clause 2.—The Explanation to sub-clause (1) makes it clear that a separate pawnbroker's license should be obtained in respect of each shop or place of business of the pawnbroker.

Clause 4.—Sub-clause (1) is based on section 42 of the English Act.

Clause 5.—This is based on section 13 of the English Act.

Clause 6.—Sub-clause (1) limits the amount to be charged to 4½ per cent per annum simple interest. Sub-clauses (2) and (3) are based on section 16 of the English Act and prohibit the receipt of any profit except (a) interest and (b) prescribed charges.

Clause 7.—This provides for a pawn-ticket being given in all cases and is based on section 14 of the English Act.

Clause 8.—This provides that the person producing the pawn-ticket should ordinarily be deemed to be entitled to reclaim the pledge. It is based on sections 22 and 25 of the English Act.

Clause 9.—This makes provision for the case of claims of the property pledged and of pawners who have lost or stolen their pawn-tickets and is based on section 24 of the English Act. The clause is limited to loans not exceeding Rs. 250 in each case.

Clause 30 (1).—This provides for the keeping of accounts and other books, the furnishing of receipts and statements of accounts and the issuing of articles of jewellery which are pawned. The sub-clause is based on section 37 of the English Act and the 2nd Schedule thereto and also on sections 3 (1) and 4 (1) of the Madras Debtors' Protection Act, 1934.

Clause 30 (2), (3) and (4).—These are based on sections 3 (2), 3 (3) and 4 respectively of the Madras Debtors' Protection Act.

Clause 31.—This provides for the liability of the pawnbroker in case the pledge is destroyed by fire and is based on section 37 of the English Act.

Clause 32.—This provides for compensation to the pawnor in case the pledge becomes depreciated on account of the default or neglect of the pawnbroker and is based on section 38 of the English Act.

Clause 33.—This penalises a pawnbroker who advances a smaller amount than that shown in the pawn-ticket or in his accounts or registers or who takes or receives interest or other charges at a rate higher than that shown therein. A repetition of the offence may attract the cancellation of the pawnbroker's licence. The provisions of this clause are in part based on section 38 of the English Act.

Clause 34.—This penalises certain acts of the pawnbroker and is based for the most part on section 39 of the English Act.

Clause 35.—Sub-clause (1) makes certain acts of pawnbrokers punishable and is based on section 36 of the English Act.

Sub-clause (2) provides for the seizure by a pawnbroker of any article offered to him in pawn, for sale or otherwise, if the pawnbroker believes it to be stolen or otherwise illegally or clandestinely obtained, and also for the detention of the person offering such article. A report is to be made at the nearest police station where the person and the article seized are to be delivered to the Police.

Sub-clause (3) provides for the delivery of a list of stolen properties to pawnbrokers by the Police and for the pawnbroker seizing any such article, if offered to him, and detaining the person offering it, making a report to the Police, etc., as provided in sub-clause (2). This is based on section 36 of the Madras City Police Act, 1933.

Clause 36.—Sub-clause (1) provides a penalty for contraventions of the Bill for which no penalty is provided elsewhere in the Bill.

Sub-clause (2) provides for the imposition of an additional daily fine where a pawnbroker's business is carried on in contravention of the provisions of clause 2 of the Bill.

Sub-clause (3) provides for a Court which consists a pawnbroker for failure to furnish a receipt or statement of account directing the pawnbroker to furnish such receipt or statement. If the account is not furnished, the pawnbroker's license may be cancelled by the Court.

Clause 17 provides that only authorized Presidency Magistrates and Courts not inferior to the Court of a Magistrate of the second class shall try offences against the Bill.

Clause 18 empowers police officers to arrest without warrant persons committing in their view offences against the Bill.

Clause 19.—This provides that the fact that a pawnbroker is guilty of an offence against the Act will not render the contract of pawn void, unless the offence is one against the provisions of the Bill relating to licenses.

The two provisions are based on sections 6 (2) and 6 (3) respectively of the Madras Debtors' Protection Act, 1904, and provide that the pawnbroker shall not be entitled to interest or to costs in the cases referred to therein.

Clause 20.—This gives power to the Government to make rules.

Clauses 21 and 22.—These make consequential amendments in the Madras Debtors' Protection Act, 1904, and the Madras City Police Act, 1904, respectively.

Clause 23.—This makes it clear that loans advanced on pledges before the Bill comes into operation will be governed not by the Bill but by the prevailing law.

(By order of His Excellency the Governor)

P. APPU NAIR,

Secretary to Government, Legal Department.
